Technical Certification Scholarship

Application Instructions

RMPC was formed in April of 2015 to promote the advancement of the oil and natural gas industry in all aspects of pipeline engineering, construction and operation in the Rocky Mountain Region. Headquartered centrally in Denver, Colorado, the RMPC has a presence throughout the entire Rocky Mountain Region, including Colorado, North Dakota, New Mexico, Wyoming and Arizona. At the core of the RMPC are the community outreach programs and charity events we hold to fund scholarships for education in science, technology, and engineering.

It is our belief that the most important commodity in our industry is our workforce. We serve our members and constituents in a number of ways, but the club's primary purpose is to provide scholarships to men and women looking to advance their careers through education. We differentiate ourselves in that we support licensed field workers as much or more than degreed professional employees.

Our goal is to provide scholarship funds to individuals preparing to complete a certification/training or reimburse applicant for successful completion of a certification within the last year.

Selection Process

During the Review period, the Scholarship Committee and RMPC board members will evaluate the applications and select the winners based on merit and need.

Award notifications will be sent out by dates outlined below, and reimbursement checks will be mailed once proof of enrollment/successful completion is received.

Scholarship recipients will be paired with a participating mentor for 6 months.

It is the responsibility of the applicant to verify all prerequisites have been met and any test registrations are completed by the organization-specific deadlines.
